What can be done to protect Kentucky from these raids? Some efficient means ought to be adopted. This thing of sowing down quietly and allowing neighborhoods to be robbed and plundered is not creditable to the State. It has been suggested that military companies be formed in the various counties, who shall be armed, equiped, and drilled. The objection to this is, that these neighborhoods infested by these raids can't afford to raise military companies. There are their homes, property and families. The guerrillas could easily bring a superior force and overwhelm a few companies. Then their homes and property would be exposed to summary vengeance. Neighborhoods thus overrun every month or two can't engage in the military, in self-defense they keep quiet. Even active Union men take no part in these raids.

Now Bravet casts about for a more successful speculator on such a disposition as this. Said Pasha had one of a whin from the new grand French mirror; the ready Bravet procured them and sent them in with a bill that had been apparently drawn up with magnifying glass. Said Pasha, "I am a fool, and was reckled in his position, fell into a rage at the transparent monstrosity of the charge—"It was an infamous robbery!" "But if I am to be your highness's man, I can't be a fool." And the eager Vane tickled at old old old which the spiritual operator had phlegmized from a vale of the ancien régime, laughed and forgave, and paid in satisfaction the style of grand seigneur. Said's successor, the actual Vane, said, "I said you were a fool, and I used the contracte force on his treasury of Said's thoughts." Vane said, "To M. Bravet's proposal," in modern Egypt as the horns of Ammon.

So they fell back on M. Bravet's hands. But M. Bravet having some need for a customer who shall relieve him of them, C. S. A. is patiently the customer, but a rather hasty customer, satisfactory to Commercial Laird only on condition of proved forthcomingness, and a good deal of money.

Now Bravet casts about for a creditable party who will take on undertake with him the fulfilment of the contract with Laird, on one hand, with a view on the other hand to getting out of the hole he has dug for himself.

As it stands, he is in a position to the doubtful large party, payable by the C. S. A. customer.

Further, the Daily Democrat of this morning has the publication of a business notice by the special agent of the Treasury Department on the Upper Mississippi is made the occasion of the following editorial comment:

"The Philadelphia Gazette tells the following excellent story of a merchant of short time.

"A shewly dressed woman, not bad looking, yesterday entered a handsome store along the promenade. She looked like the wife of a man who had suddenly made money by an especie de chance—but had lost it again.

"The proprietor, who was behind the counter, a master rather rare with him, with his hat on his head. He personally waited on her, asking with his best smile:

"What can I show you, ma'm?"

"Here's, ma'm—an—producing a bottle of the article.

"This is what makes hair grow, does it?"

"Yes, ma'm, you'll find it a little pamphlet with a label wrapped around it, certificates from people who have been bald."

"Hum! What's the price?"

"A dollar a bottle, ma'm—six bottles for five dollars."

"You're certain it will bring hair in?"

"Never fails, unless the hair is destroyed by disease."

"Peace does not appear so distant as it did."

"How any man can be so senseless as to buy this hair—silk stockings, they have been present; not only in the deep sea, the broad bay, and the rapid river, but also up the Mississippi, the Ohio, and wherever the river may well be proud, even that is not so bad."

"It is hard to say that anything has been more bravely and better done than at Antietam, Murfreesboro, Gettysburg, and on many fields of battle."

"Nor must Uncle Sam's web feet be forgotten. At all the waters' margins, they have been present; not only in the deep sea, the broad bay, and the rapid river, but also up the Mississippi, the Ohio, and wherever the river may well be proud, even that is not so bad."

The JOINT DEPARTMENT in the Democrat Office is now ready for all kinds of printing. Bills, Circulars, Cards, Posters, &c., printed at the shortest possible notice, and at prices to suit the time.

Notice to Subscribers in Central Kentucky.

In view of the temporary suspension of the trains on the Louisville and Frankfort and Frankfort and Lexington railroads, considerable inquiry has been made as to whether the mails along the line of the road, and in the interior, would be suspended.

We learn from the postmaster that the mail matter for Frankfort and Lexington, and intermediate points, will be forwarded by the stage; and that for points above and beyond Lexington, will be sent via Cincinnati.

Mails off the line of the road, and cross-mail, will, as far as possible, be supplied by special carriers, appointed for that purpose. This interruption will not long continue. We shall subscribers along the line and throughout the country through which the regular facilities are for the time suspended.

POLICE PROCEEDINGS—Thursday, Oct. 15.—R. Sledge (I. M. C.), passing counterfeited money, continued until Monday morning.

Mary Jones, drunk, &c.; sixty days in the Workhouse, in default.

Pat Flansky, assault on Tom Lynch with a baton.

George Harman and Ed. Winter, assault on Ed. Lampson; they were severely discharged.

Maj. Barry, who keeps the Tennessee House, corner of J. Harlan and Clay streets, was presented for allowing gambling in his house. Bill in $900 to answer.

Horatio Martin was charged with stealing $100 from Michael Fishback in the county.

His case was referred to the Grand Jury of the Circuit Court.

Wm. Wilson, the young man who was arrested on a warrant issued by the Coronor, charging him with the death of Pat Kelly, was discharged, as Kelly committed suicide.

Ed. Burns was up for drunkenness. Sent to the almshouse.

THE CARTER ZOUAVES—The Carter Zouaves return to our city this morning, and will give three more of their unrivaled performances—tonight, to-morrow afternoon and to-morrow night. To-night has been set apart for the benefit of Misses Effie, Minnie, Maggie and Ada, and we hope that the house will be filled to its utmost capacity. The benefactors are well deserving the patronage of our citizens, and during their short stay with us they have done all in their power to please the large audiences that nightly assemble at Masonic Temple. The bill selected for this occasion is an excellent one, comprising singing, dancing, and an interesting farce, forming one of the most interesting entertainments ever given in this city. Let the young ladies have a bumper.

EXTENSIVE ROBBERY—On Monday, the 5th inst., Mr. W. C. Coup, owner of the side-show exhibiting the Alabam family, and traveling with Mable's great show, was robbed of $5,000 in greenbacks in this city, which was taken from a box in which Mr. Coup kept all his money. Suspicion rested on a young man named Frank Pierce, who was late in Mr. Coup's employ, but who had been seized with a sudden leaving. Mr. Pierce was arrested near Seymour, Ind., Wednesday morning, and some of the stolen property found in his possession.

ARRESTED FOR SELLING LIQUOR TO SOLDIERS—Yesterday two persons, who keep coffeehouses on Marshall street, were arrested and lodged in the military prison, and their houses closed, for selling liquor to soldiers. Col. Hanson has been energetic in this matter, and in every instance where there has been proof of the fact he has arrested the parties and closed their houses. There is a State law as well as a military law against selling liquor to soldiers, and we are requested to make it will be strictly enforced.

THE CITY COUNCIL—Both boards of the City Council met last night. They went into joint session and elected the following officers: M. G. Holmes, keeper of the workhouse; George Jones, interpreter of the city court; Colonel Dent, tobacco inspector; and Thos. Shanks, alternate tobacco inspector. The Council, without transacting any further business, adjourned to meet again next Thursday night.

The Louisville Post Band discoursed delicious music in front of our office yesterday morning. We tender them our thanks for the delightful serenade. Our neighbors of the Journal looked rather down in the mouth as we were being complimented with the music; however, when the band had concluded several tunes to us, it halted in front of the Journal office and played them Yankee Doodle, and they are all right again we suppose.

ARRESTED—Last night officers Gunshander and Turner arrested a woman by the name of Lucinda Burnett, charged with running off slaves. We are informed that she has for some time been aiding slaves to leave their masters, and then assisting them to cross the river. She will have a preliminary examination before Judge Johnston this morning.

A DIFFICULTY—Last night about 10 o'clock Fred Wynaugh was shot by a young man who is unknown—the ball passing through his head, inflicting a painful wound. From what we were able to learn there was a debt between them of $2,000, and they got into a dispute about it, when hard words brought on the gun, and then the shot was fired.

THEATERS—The attendance at the theaters last night was fair. At the Louisville to-night "Lady Audley's Secret" will be performed for the benefit of Miss Susan Denin—she sustaining the leading part. At Wood's, Miss Kate Denin, for her benefit, will appear as Captain Black in the "Hidden Hand."

WOODLAWN RACES—Our readers should not forget that the regular fall trotting season over Woodlawn course commences on Monday next. The entries, for the different purses are large, and the sport during the entire week promises to be finer than that of any previous season.

THE Mechanical and Agricultural Association of Breckinridge, Hancock, Grayson and Perry counties will hold their fourth annual fair at Cloverport, commencing on the 20th inst., and continuing three days.

THE new boat Jno. Shallock, just completed for the Jeffersonville ferry company, will be put on the track next Sunday, and run regularly.

THE Illinois State Agricultural Fair will be held at the corner of Third and Main streets, has our thanks for Cincinnati and Eastern papers in advance of the mails.

LITERATURE—Mr. Lincoln's recent letters have been published in pamphlet form.

LOCAL NOTICES.

101 SHOTTO

Hagan's Magnolia Balm.

This is the most delightful and extended article ever discovered. It changes the sun-burnt face and hands to a nearly satin texture of ravishing beauty, imparting the glow of youth, and the distingué appearance so inviting in the city belle of fashion. It removes tan, freckles, pimples and roughness from the skin, leaving the complexion fresh, transparent and smooth. It relieves ministerial injuries to the skin. Patronized by actresses and opera singers. It is what every lady should have. Sold everywhere.
